DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS

The Program Supervisor job classification series is intended for those employees who are typically considered first-line supervisors and assume responsibility for, and participate in, the daily work of an assigned agency program.

EXAMPLES OF WORK PERFORMED

Supervises the work of assigned program staff and provides training and technical assistance in the program area.

Prepares and reviews reports on the effectiveness of program activities.

Confers with staff on program issues and problems to identify and implement solutions.

Performs related work as assigned.

DESCRIPTION OF LEVELS

Note: Distinctions between levels may be based on factors including the size, type and structure of the supervised workgroup; risk, complexity, impact, and scope of the supervised program; whether the supervised daily operations encompass more than one program; the scope of responsibility, oversight, and authority; hierarchy, reporting relationships, and placement within the organization; the size or functions of the agency; and scope of the agency's financial allocation.

Differences in duties and authority between levels may also be influenced by the employing agency, specific job requirements, and whether the employee holds additional credentials, such as specialized certifications. Additionally, external labor market factors for certain occupations may also impact the appropriate level within the series.
