Examples of work and descriptions are meant to progress through the levels. For example, an employee at level V may also perform work listed within the previous levels.

Note: Factors that may distinguish between the entry and journey levels include the degree of independence in performing the work; the complexity of the work; the scope of responsibility; and the employee's related experience, education, and certifications. Employees at the journey levels may independently perform the full range of identified within current or previous levels and may assist others in performing work of greater complexity.

CHILD PROTECTIVE SERVICES SPECIALIST I: Performs entry-level child protective services work. Works under close supervision, with minimal latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may have limited or no experience and spend the majority of their time performing simple to routine work following standard procedures.

CHILD PROTECTIVE SERVICES SPECIALIST II: Performs routine (journey-level) child protective services work. Works under moderate supervision, with limited latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may rely on direction from others to solve problems that are not standard, occasionally assist other staff in performing work of greater complexity, and may:

- Advise and counsel parents and children during stressful situations.
- Testify in court.

CHILD PROTECTIVE SERVICES SPECIALIST III: Performs moderately complex (journey-level) child protective services work. Works under general supervision, with moderate latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may:

- Participate in community awareness activities.
- Investigate reports alleging illegal child care and/or standards violations in licensed and registered child care facilities and document findings.
- Conduct risk assessments of protective services cases and determine and implement case actions.
- Prepare statistical and special reports for management.

Note: A senior-level employee (levels IV-V) may serve in a lead or supervisor role. Senior-level employees may perform the full range of work identified in the levels preceding their own and/or may coordinate and/or oversee that work for others. Factors that may distinguish between senior levels include the scope of responsibility, oversight, and authority; and the nature, complexity, scope, and impact of the work performed.

CHILD PROTECTIVE SERVICES SPECIALIST IV: Performs highly complex (senior-level) child protective services work. Works under limited supervision, with considerable latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may:
