DESCRIPTION OF LEVELS

Examples of work and descriptions are meant to progress through the levels. For example, an employee at level V may also perform work listed within the previous levels.

Note: Factors that may distinguish between the journey levels include the degree of independence in performing the work; the complexity of the work; the scope of responsibility; and the employee's related experience, education, and certifications. Employees at the journey levels may independently perform the full range of work identified within current or previous levels and may assist others in performing work of greater complexity.

CASE MANAGER I: Performs routine (journey-level) case management work. Works under moderate supervision, with limited latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may rely on direction from others to solve problems that are not standard. Employees may also occasionally assist others in performing job duties of greater complexity.

CASE MANAGER II: Provides moderately complex (journey-level) case management work. Works under general supervision, with moderate latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may:

- Identify areas that are barriers to services for clients.
- Make recommendations on policy and procedure changes.
- Monitor clients' progress.
- Perform transition planning to ensure continuity of care and management of risk factors.

Note: A senior-level employee (levels III-V) may serve in a lead or supervisor role; however, typically, supervisory responsibilities within this job classification series will be found at level IV or V, depending on the structure and size of the supervised workgroup.

A senior-level employee may perform the full range of work identified in the levels preceding their own, and/or may coordinate and/or oversee that work for others. Factors that may distinguish between senior levels include the scope of responsibility, oversight, and authority; and the nature, complexity, and impact of the work performed.

CASE MANAGER III: Performs highly complex (senior-level) case management work. Works under limited supervision, with considerable latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may:

- Review clients referred to case management and track progress through the case management intake and screening process.
- Participate in the quality assurance and utilization review processes for case management to ensure quality services.
- Prepare reports on service provider and program activities.
- Develop presentations and orientations.

CASE MANAGER IV: Performs advanced (senior-level) case management work. Works under minimal supervision, with extensive latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may:

- Develop program goals, objectives, policies, and procedures.
- Monitor and evaluate service delivery systems and clients' progress.
- Monitor case management and program budgets.
- Instruct staff of current methods, standards, and trends in case management.

CASE MANAGER V: Performs highly advanced (senior-level) case management work. Works under minimal supervision, with extensive latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may be considered technical experts or oversee, evaluate, and implement improvements to case management and program activities, and may:

- Coordinate and develop intra-agency or interagency agreements to address community service gaps and barriers.

GENERAL QUALIFICATION GUIDELINES

EXPERIENCE AND EDUCATION

Experience in case management or social services work. Graduation from an accredited four-year college or university with major coursework in social work or a related field is generally preferred. Experience and education may be substituted for one another.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, AND ABILITIES

For all levels

- Knowledge of community resources; case management principles, objectives, standards, and methods; and program policies and procedures.
- Skill in developing, implementing, and monitoring service and treatment plans.
- Ability to assess clients' needs, to coordinate clients' services, to communicate effectively, and to provide guidance to others.

Additional for Case Manager III – V levels

- Ability to monitor program effectiveness and to oversee and/or supervise the work of others.

Additional for Case Manager IV-V levels

- Ability to evaluate clients' services.
