DESCRIPTION OF LEVELS

Examples of work and descriptions are meant to progress through the levels. For example, an employee at level IV may also perform work listed within the previous levels.

Note: Factors that may distinguish between journey and senior-levels include the degree of independence in performing the work, the nature and complexity of the work, the scope of responsibility, and the employee's related experience, education, and certifications. Other factors may include the type and scope of the assigned project(s) and/or compliance analyses performed. Employees at the journey-levels may independently perform the full range of work listed in the examples or may assist others in that work.

COMPLIANCE ANALYST I: Performs entry-level to routine (journey-level) compliance analysis work. Works under moderate supervision, with limited latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may rely on direction from others to solve problems that are not standard. Employees may also occasionally assist others in performing work of greater complexity.

COMPLIANCE ANALYST II: Performs complex (journey-level) compliance analysis work. Works under general supervision, with moderate latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level routinely assist others in performing work of greater complexity, provide guidance to others, and may prepare and present written and/or oral reports on compliance issues for agency management and other staff.

Note: Any senior-level employee (levels III-IV) may serve as a team lead or supervisor. A senior-level employee may perform the full range of work identified in the levels preceding their own and/or may oversee or coordinate that work for others. Factors that may distinguish between senior levels include the scope of responsibility, oversight, and authority; the type, scope, nature, complexity, and impact of the work performed; and the employee's related experience, education, and certifications.*

COMPLIANCE ANALYST III: Performs highly complex (senior-level) compliance analysis work. Works under limited supervision, with considerable latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may:

- Review contracts, grants, and other legal documents.
- Perform compliance reviews that are primarily highly complex in nature or large in scale and/or oversees others who perform compliance reviews, including coordinating assignments and monitoring activities.

COMPLIANCE ANALYST IV: Performs highly advanced and/or supervisory (senior-level) compliance analysis work. Works under minimal supervision, with extensive latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment. Employees at this level may provide input into the development and revision of policies, procedures, and rules.
