GENERAL DESCRIPTION

Performs custodial supervisory work involving preparing reports of work activities and conducting inspections of buildings, facilities, and the surrounding premises.

DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS

The Custodial Manager job classification series is intended for those employees who supervise and participate in daily custodial work. Although employees may directly perform some cleaning work, they should be doing supervisory related work the majority of their time. Distinctions between levels may depend on a variety of factors including the size of the workgroup being supervised; complexity of work performed by the workgroup; scope of responsibility, oversight, and authority; years of experience; and the type and size of supervised building or facility.

EXAMPLES OF WORK PERFORMED

Performs, plans, assigns, and supervises general custodial functions such as sweeping, mopping, and dusting of restrooms, offices, and other areas within buildings and facilities; the cleaning of office furniture, walls, light fixtures, windows, and floors; and the emptying of trash.

Inspects buildings and facilities for cleanliness, completed work, and needed repairs.

Selects the most suitable cleaning materials for different types of furniture, flooring, and surfaces.

Plans, prepares, and approves employee work schedules; reviews and approves leave requests, performs performance management, and prepares reports of work activities. Maintains records related to inspections, maintenance, personnel, and budgets.

Inventories stock to ensure that supplies and equipment are available in adequate amounts.

Checks and maintains equipment to ensure that it is in working order.

Instructs staff in work policies and procedures, and the use and maintenance of cleaning materials, chemicals, and equipment.

Performs related work as assigned.

DESCRIPTION OF LEVELS

Examples of work and descriptions are meant to progress through the levels. For example, an employee at level III may also perform work listed within the previous levels and may coordinate or oversee that work.

CUSTODIAL MANAGER I: Performs moderately complex (journey-level) custodial supervisory work. Employees at this level may have little or no supervisory experience and may be responsible for smaller workgroups. Works under moderate supervision, with limited latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment.
